ALKING up Severely I met a friend coming out of a door,

who said to me,

"Listen! If you want to see something funny, you want to come right up stairs with me."

"Listen!" I said.

"I'm in a hurry; won't it take long?" I said.

"No need!"

"This is more Washington—heard in every other sentence—and in the alternative sentences appears "Yes indeed!"

"So we turned up the stairs."

"Can we look?" I asked of a gentleman at the head, whom I recognized as a patent lawyer doing business there. "Certainly," And he led us into the back room, and showed us a sheet covered with two hundred looking objects elevated on stands.

"What did it seem to be?" I asked.

"Dead, evidently," I said with a shudder. "Yes, rather," said the lawyer; "two women; dead these eighteen months.

They are embalmed. Touch them."

I laid my finger on the arm of one. It was as cold as ice, and it felt like a dead man's arm. I was surprised to find it soft and elastic as if it were alive. I touched the other, and

ADVERTISING DODGES.

Tricks to Follow Trade Practiced by New York City Merchants.

A hungry man who was sauntering along Eighth Avenue one bright afternoon recently walked into a small restaurant a short distance above Twenty-third street, and dropping into a seat at one of the tables ordered some cakes and coffee and a place of pie. He got two checks from the waiter when his frugal meal was over. One bore the figures 15. The other had the legend:

This entitles the bearer to one photograph. The customer handed it to the cas-hler and asked, in some surprise, what it meant.

"Oh, that's all right," the cashier said; "that's thrown in as an extra inducement to patronize us. The condition around here is so stiff that we have to do something to hold on to our business. Step out in the back yard and our artist will take a snap at you free."

The customer found a camera rigged up against the fence in the little yard.

A photographer stood beside it, and in less than five minutes he finished a cheap type.

When he left the restaurant the proprietor proudly pointed to two large frames in one corner of the establishment. It contained over a hundred phototypes ranged in rows. Beneath was a placard bearing the words: "My patrons."

A few nights later the same man entered the restaurant again, and was amazed to see his photograph added to the large collection.

"That's out of the frame right off," he said, indignantly.

"Oh, I couldn't think of it," said the proprietor, coolly. "If you want that removed you'll have to sue me for putting it there without my permission," and he turned on his heel.

The man got the picture out later on,

but not until he had resorted to the

strategy of feeling a friend to rip it out of the frame when the restaurant keeper's back was turned.

The free photograph with coffee and cakes is the latest and most remarkable novelty in the multiplicity of devices that tempt the customer to just now to attract patronage. A trunk dealer in Fulton street, Brooklyn, draws a crowd to his store daily by the exhibition of two big cats that make a peculiar kind of noise that is called "talking." They are called Australian talking cats, and the city is filled with the noise of their "talk."

Who they talk to is another matter,

but not until he had resorted to the

strategy of feeling a friend to rip it out of the frame when the restaurant keeper's back was turned.

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM, Editor.

TUESDAY, JULY 30, 1889.

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY.

A live and growing city of 5,000 inhabitants, situated in a county of 40,000. The Hopkinsville and Nashville has two lines of railroad in the county. The largest tobacco growing county in the world. Wheat, corn, hay, coal, live stock and fruits produced for export in large quantities. The city has four banks with an aggregate capital of $1,000,000. A planing mill and wagon factory, three carriage factories, lime factory, tobacco manufactory, two foundries, three brickyards, broom factory, steam laundry, ice factory, two large drug stores in the city and several in the county. Spiceland driving par and deer spears. Five turkeys centering in Hopkinsville. Building and Loan Association, Commercial Club, a telephone exchange, numbered streets and houses and city lighted by gas. Macadamized streets and brick sidewalks all over the city. Eleven churches, two colleges, a high school and the finest system of public schools, white and colored, in the State. Western Kentucky Lunatic Asylum with a population of 600, two miles east of the city. A $100,000 court house with town clock in the dome. A fire department and a company of State Guards. Little River furnishes an adequate supply of water for all purposes. Real estate law and rents cheap. Fine opening for woolen mill, pork packing establishment, fruit canning, tannery and many other enterprises. Climate mild and invigorating and exceedingly healthy.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For State Treasurer,
STEPHEN G. SHARP,
of Fayette.

For Representative,
(No candidate).

For Coroner,
DR. JNO. L. DULIN,
of Hopkinsville.

For Constitutional Convention,
Yes.

Gladiolus, England's "Grand Old Man," celebrated his golden wedding anniversary Thursday.

The Ohio prohibitionists have nominated a state ticket headed by Rev. Helwig for Governor.

Jim Kelley col., who assaulted Mrs. Peter Crow Thursday afternoon, was taken from the Paris jail and hanged by a mob Friday morning before daylight.

Dr. Dulin is still on the Democratic ticket for Coroner and is putting him forward the party has presented one of its best men and it confidently appeals to the people to elect him.

John L. Sullivan having refused to accept Jim Smith's challenge, the latter claims the championship belt now held by Sullivan and announces his willingness to fight anybody for 1,000 pounds a side.

New York towns are complaining of a plague of flies. Then New York will no longer be looked to for presidential candidates. Neither party wants to nominate a man who has flies on him.

Princess Louise Victoria, eldest daughter of the Prince of Wales, was married Saturday to Earl of Fife, at London. The fortunate groom is a middle-aged Scotchman about twice as old as his bride.

Capt. Sharp is in every respect a proper man to fill the responsible position of State Treasurer. Democrats should see to it that he gets every vote of his party in this county. It is important that he should be given a good old-time majority.

Esq. Clark is a Republican but he has shown his love for Democracy by marrying into two good Democratic families. He has furthermore raised a large family of children who are following his example in this particular as fast as they are old enough. This ought to make the "Squire a pretty good non-partisan representative.

The widow of John A. Little, a Pittsburg drummer who was drowned in the Hurlburt boat at Johnston has sued the South Fork Co., owners of the dam, for $50,000 damages. This is a test case and if the plaintiff gains the suit many other actions will be brought against the company, which a coroner's jury has decided was responsible for the disaster.

The will of the late Geo. W. Norton, of Louisville, was admitted to probate Friday. The two children of his deceased son, Ernest J. Norton, who had been previously given his share of the estate, were left $25,000 each; his nephew, Jno. L. Norton, was given $5,000; the Baptist Sunday School at Russellville $200 for books; the Broadway Baptist Sunday School of Louisville $300 for the same purpose and the Southern Theological Seminary endowment fund $5,000. All the rest of his immense estate was left to his wife, son and five daughters now living, in equal proportions. Mrs. Norton and the son, Geo. W. Norton, Jr., are named as executrix and executor jointly.

If there were nothing else against Mr. Blackburn, his vote for the confirmation of Murrat Husted should defeat him for re-election to the Senate. As the editor of the Commercial-Gazette, Mr. Husted has been notorious for two generations as the bitter enemy of the south. In all that time he has said no good word for it. It has done nothing which he has approved. No murder has been committed on its soil which he did not vehemently denounce as political in its character, and no crime done which he has not double leaved as a distinctly "rebel" crime. Yet when such a man was nominated as minister to Germany, Mr. Blackburn hurried to his support. Will the press of Kentucky be silent about such an action? Will the people of Kentucky condone it?—Lebanon Standard.

Esq. H. B. Clark, the Republican nominee, is still without opposition and the surface of the political waters of Christian county is as calm and peaceful lake. The people are going quietly about their business and show no signs of getting excited over the approaching election. The better elements of both parties are pretty well satisfied with the idea of being represented by a good, moral, sober and intelligent man like Esq. Clark. The ringsters of his own party, who were forced against their natural inclinations to nominate a man outside of their own charmed circle, are about the only class dissatisfied with the situation of affairs. Esq. Clark has made a pretty thorough canvass of the county, but so far, with a single exception, we have been spared the usual windjamming chit-chat, for which let us be duty thankful.

Col. A. E. Jones, one of the most prominent old citizens of Cincinnati, was murdered in his stable Thursday afternoon by his hired man, Charles A. Bligh. The body was rubbed of all valuables and after dark thrown into a sewer man-hole some distance away, while the victim was still breathing, according to the statement of the murderer, who has been arrested and has made a full confession.

Edward James, the false Christ, who claimed the succession to DuPont Bell, the Georgia pretender who is now in an insane asylum at Atlanta, was arrested and lodged in jail Friday with twenty-nine of his colored followers, for disturbing the peace.

The capital of Montana was changed Saturday from Helena to Augusta by a vote of 32 to 24. Consternation and excitement followed the unexpected announcement, as Helena fully expected to retain the seat of government.

Madame Selkie, a saddle colored quadroon, has made her debut as a singer before a white audience, in Louisville. She is billed as a "colored Patti" but her singing is rather harshly criticized by the papers.

The Southern Negro.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., July 26.—The Tradesman has instituted an inquiry with reference to the value of negro labor in industrial channels in the south. The inquiries were sent to 300 leading southern manufacturers, representing blast furnaces, rolling mills, miscellaneous iron works, lumber mills, saw mills, etc. Replies were received which represent 9,000 negro employees, of whom 2,500 are skilled. The average wages paid common negro labor is $1.10 per day, and skilled labor runs from $1.75 to $2.25 per day, though several correspondents paid colored puddlers, beaters and rollers as high as $4 and $5 per day, and many furnaces pay as high as $2.50. The replies, without a single exception, show that there is no difference between the pay of whites and blacks for the same class of work. The manufacturers are practically unanimous in the opinion that for common labor in the southern states the negro is more efficient and useful than the whites, and, without an exception, they declare themselves well satisfied with the negro in the factory, and announce their determination to continue him in his place. The Tradesman adds the condition of the negro is constantly improving, and as an industrial factor his usefulness is now recognized by all.

THE CRAFT.

The Bowling Green Times has a new and smaller head, no reduction is noticeable in the size of the editor's dome of thought.

The two Henderson dailies are still slinging mud. Don't do it, boys.

The Owensboro Messenger thinks Mr. Carlisle should be speaking in Kentucky instead of touring in Mexico at this particular time.

DEATHS.

Infant child of George Cox, in the Antioch neighborhood, Saturday.

Mrs. Priscilla Hemphill, north of town, Friday, aged 76 years.

Col. Thos. W. White, of Hernandez, Miss., died at his home Friday morning, after a protracted illness. Col. White was the father-in-law of Mr. C. M. Latham, of this city.

Ed. M. Boyd, formerly of this county, died Friday at Elm Creek, Neb. He was a brother of Geo. H. Boyd, of Kelly.

Sarah L. Gibbons, wife of Elijah Gibbons, Saturday, aged 24 years.

Mary Dangerfield, a few miles south of the city, Saturday, aged 18 years.

Deafness Can't be Cured

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running or a perfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, (caused by catarrh), that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CLENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

C. C. Hinks, sheriff of Wolfe county, has already paid into the State treasury two-thirds of the revenue due from his county for 1889.

Lewis Bros. & Co., the big dry goods house of Providence, R. I., that failed last week, now claim that they will be able to pay out.

A trust has been organized to squeeze the orange crop of Florida.

The heaviest rain storm for months fell Sunday afternoon. A high wind prevailed and many trees were blown down in and about the city. Corn crops were also leveled in places.

One of the large pine trees in Mrs. Jno. P. Campbell's front yard was blown down Sunday.

Jack White and Chas. Smith, both colored, were taken to Webster county yesterday, to answer the charge of grand larceny.

SOME BUSINESS MAXIMS.

Rules of a Miser for the Proper Conduct of the Affairs of Life.

The Franklin Favorite says: Among the rubbish in the store room of the late William I. Hilton, who burned $60,000 just before his death to prevent his wife and sons from securing it, a little old faded note-book, containing some odd suggestions to his boys as to how they should proceed in life after he had passed to his reward, was picked up by a favorite reporter a few days since, and is now, for the first time, given to the public.

Search the Bible to find the bottom of the deceitful human heart and say your prayers every night. Think over every day's business at night.

Never marry until you are 30 years old.

Think three times before you speak once.

Never court any girl unless you intend to marry her. There is danger in fooling young girls. Never give them any advantage in a letter.

Never buy a small place with a fine building on it.

Never buy white, spout, crawfish land, at any price, expecting to make money by cultivating it.

Never sell the products of the farm you work to any man on time, at any price.

There is nothing in this world but death that is certain.

Never loan money to your neighbors, for if you should have to sue them they would be no longer a neighbor.

Never let any man know anything about your business, except when you may have some difference and need to advise with a lawyer.

Never keep all your money in one channel.

Watch all men, as there are but few who are honest; in fact, there is none honest from the heart in everything.

Ing with responsible parties. Be sure to go and ask all the parties that join the band that you are buying to show you the corners of the land they own.

If you ever sell goods or groceries be sure to get a house on the square, and on the inside corner, if you can, and live on the same lot and in the building that you do business in.

It is best to have your store and family live up stairs, with kitchen below.

Never employ a clerk at any price, be content with what business you can do yourself. Trust no man farther than you are compelled to.

Squint thieves always steal about the hours of ten, eleven, twelve and one o'clock.

Weigh all you buy, and all you sell if possibly convenient.

The common law decides that the individual debts shall be paid first, but the bankrupt law decides that there shall be an equal distribution.

Above all things on earth, never vote for any tax on anything, except for a railroad, in case you have no way of getting your country produce off. Then you may create a tax for one line of railroad. The difference in getting your produce to market will pay your taxes.

If you ever loan money to any person take security, if you can get it. If you loan money to a firm, be sure to take each one of the firm names to the note, then no one of the firm can slip out and say that the money never came into the firm.

You may sell to irresponsible men anything that you have, by getting your pay at the time, but never buy claims, notes, etc., from men that are not responsible, unless you investigate and find that the parties have no offset against them.

Never buy any kind of stocks, it doesn't matter how low or high they are. Never, never, never, never, from the fact that stocks are too uncertain; the risk is too great; rings are formed and they can raise or lower prices just as they see fit, so they can make money.

Never deposit money unless you take a receipt for it.

Under the present law, when you loan money to any person, take a mortgage on real estate and include both man and wife.

Under the present existing law you pay taxes on watches, etc., that you keep for family use, but you pay no taxes on clocks and watches brought out to sell.

Tell a lie rather than the truth when it will save a difficulty, but it must be a lie that no man knows except yourself. It is better to tell a lie than to have a difficulty. The good book says: "Blessed is the peacemaker," etc.

If you have a surplus of money never, never loan it out to the people at any percent, but put it in good bonds, such as U. S. bonds, or other good bonds, but the U. S. bonds are preferable, from the fact that the whole United States is bound for them.

Four per cent. when certain is better than eight per cent. when uncertain.

Never buy inferior articles of any kind to make money on.

If you live in town never invite any company, and you will always have plenty of money.

Buy goods on time only in small quantities, whether wholesale or retail.

The Ladies Delighted. The pleasant effect, and the perfect safety, with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and in the taste, gentle, yet effective in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Draw blood, modern doctors cleanse it; leave the increased demand. Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due, not to over-abundance, but to impurity of the blood; and it is equally well established that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal, but it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being recommended."

above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned."—J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

"I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood diseases. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time."—E. L. Foster, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas.

"We have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood-purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

Ayer's medicine continues to be the standard remedy in spite of all competition."—T. W. Richmond, Bear Lake, Mich.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, PREPARED BY DR. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price $1 a bottle, $5 a bottle.

Recommended
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.

Only a few of the symptoms likely to be present at once. Thousands of men and women are afflicted with this disease, and many of them end in the grave.
